

LEGISLATURE

scheduled address by Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Corregidor and now commander of the Fourth army.

Revenue Said Needed.
Bean's motion to take his bill from jurisdiction of the revenue and taxation committee, where it and approximately 20 other revenue-raising measures have been stalled, came after he told the house:

"If we sit around here without action on these tax bills, we will be caught without any revenue measures at all. I make this motion so that prompt action can be taken to care for the millions we have already spent, or are going to spend."

A movement to expedite final passage and enactment into law of the negro higher education bill was under way in the legislature today.

The house yesterday gave quick consideration of the measure a boost by voting to have the bill mimeographed and not subject to delay incident to printing. An effort to shove it through the house must be business was in immediate prospect.

Senate Bill Pending.

Pending is the amended senate bill reported favorably by the house state affairs committee Tuesday night by a unanimous vote. The motion to have it mimeographed followed a plea from Rep. John Bell of Cuero, who said that if the legislature could quickly do the state's constitutional principle of segregation of the white and negro races in all schools is in danger.

He noted that the Third Court of Civil Appeals on March 5 will hear Herman Marlon Swartz's plea for admission to the University of Texas at Law School. The Houston negro was denied a mandamus writ last August by the university by a district court here, and arguments will be heard by the intermediate court on his appeal from this decision next Wednesday.

Quicker Action Urged.

Attorney General Price Daniel has told legislative committees considering the bill that its quick enactment would add weight to his defense of the Swartz case, and that if the bill is passed, he can place this in evidence before appellate courts to support a plea that the case is moot.

As now written, the negro university bill provides for immediate establishment at Austin of a law school for negroes, utilizing services of University of Texas law school faculty members, and in-house facilities of the state supreme court.

House and senate committees continued to grind their calendars down to working size.

Lobbyists Studied.

The house state affairs committee referred to what one of its members called a "slow subcommittee" a measure requiring registration of lobbyists. Rep. Charles M. Conner of Haskell, author of the bill, said it was patterned after national legislation and was not "an anti-lobbyist bill." He said it was a measure "for our own protection," but committee members complained it did not define a lobbyist.

The same committee also referred to subcommittee a bill by Rep. William S. Fly of Victoria prohibiting payment of public funds to any state employee if such employee advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States or the State of Texas. Committee members asked that the bill be more specific in defining the offense contemplated and referred it to subcommittee for revision after telling Fly they favored his idea.

Civil Service Favored.

The house municipalities and private corporations committee divided into two factions, both searching for votes on a subcommittee's favorable report on a state civil service bill for firemen and policemen. Proponents of the house measure won 10 to 8.

Two amendments which had been tacked on last week at a hearing were removed. One would have prohibited firemen and policemen from belonging to a union and the second would have made the bill permissive.

Lunch Fund Wins.

The house appropriations committee approved a bill making emergency appropriation of $720,000 to continue the school hot lunch program. An original request for $1,600,000 was reduced after additional federal funds were allotted Texas yesterday.

The committee also approved an emergency appropriation of $106,000 to the state board of control and another $10,000 to the industrial accident board.

A measure increasing the salaries of county school superintendents was recommended favorably by the house committee on counties.

LABOR LAWS

ers started building industrial unions "employers have cried 'Communist' at them," Fitzgerald added.

The attacks of this sort against the United Electrical Workers have been particularly heavy because the U. E. W. has been so consistently effective in winning better wages for the workers of the industry.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) proposed today to put the staff of the house labor committee "under oath" to determine whether its members turned out a curious news release to drum up publicity for the committee.

President William Green told reporters he plans to write a letter of protest over the statement, which referred to him variously as "apparently angry," "seemingly 'infuriated,'" or making a "grudging admission."

The handout represented itself as containing "highlights of testimony" by Green on proposed labor legislation.

It was given to reporters covering yesterday's committee hearings on the legislation. It said it was from the office of Charles Hartley (R-N.J.). Hartley disowned it. So did everyone else. Hartley ordered it withdrawn hours after its distribution.

(Associated Press reports of Green's testimony yesterday were based on the text of his prepared statement as released in advance by the AFL, and upon the spot reporting of the oral testimony by two staff writers. No one whatever was made by them of the committee document, which was distributed in mid-afternoon.)

"I'll bet you $10 to a penny," Hoffman told reporters, "the committee staff put it out. I'll ask that they be put under oath and we'll see whether they did or not."

Congressional committees are permitted staffs of ten employees, including four "professionals" such as attorneys or economists and six clerical workers. Hartley hinted that committee members were in on the mystery of the releases but didn't identify any of them.

"We have members trying to help out on one thing or another and trying to get some publicity," the chairman said. "I never saw this, though it is supposed to come from my office. I have ordered it withdrawn."

The business before the committee today was to hear Atwood R. Wynn, President of the Confederated Unions of America, a group of independent labor organizations.

In a prepared statement, Wynn asked congress to enact laws that "will tend to disperse with the discrimination which has been shown to independent laboring people and provide protection of such independent organizations from the attacks of the major labor organizations."

The CIO and AFL, he said, are "constantly using their power and influence" to put independent unions "out of business."

Wynn complained that it is difficult for independents to get "equality of treatment" when most of the men appointed to handle labor problems in the labor department have a CIO or AFL background.

While Green did use some colorful language before the house committee yesterday, Phil Pearl, AFL public relations chief, protested against attempts in a congressional news release "to characterize the mental attitude of witnesses."

Late in the day, Green was asked whether he anticipates more coal strikes and replied: "Well, we hope not."

He contended that the government was largely responsible for the last one because its representatives "stubbornly and arbitrarily refused to sit down with representatives of the workers and try to find a settlement of their troubles."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to publicly express our appreciation and thanks for the many kind and helpful considerations shown us during the sickness and death of our loved one, Della Mae Wooten. May the Lord bless each one of you in our prayer.—Mrs. W. J. Wooten and Children.

CONTRACTS SIGNED BY JUNIOR COLLEGE FOR 7 BUILDINGS

Contracts have been signed by Navajo Junior college and forwarded to the Federal Public Housing Administration for seven buildings and one hangar, Ray L. Waller, president, announced today.

Waller recently signed a contract after lease arrangements were made with the City of Corsicana for buildings 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 16 and Hangar No. 4. Today he signed contracts for two barracks buildings.

The barracks are currently being used by the college as apartments and dormitories. There are 18 married veterans and 22 single veterans residing in the barracks. Under provisions of the contract the barracks will be used for two years after the end of the school emergency and then dismantled unless the school can show an absolute need.

The hangar will be used by the school as a gymnasium. It is now being used to store engines.

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

"I'm not surprised at Senator O'Daniel's personal dislike for me. O'Daniel Actions Attacked."

"Senator O'Daniel was elected governor of Texas. I voted for him along with many other people when he was elected overwhelmingly. I made bitter attacks against O'Daniel while he was governor and I was in the senate because he had repudiated the platform on which he was elected."

"I think it was manifestly unfair for him to try to insinuate that the people of Texas look upon me as a bad character. 'If he's got anything to say O'Daniel did not reply. Hill was dismissed from the witness chair."

Several Witnesses Questioned.

Shortly before Hill took the stand the committee had questioned several witnesses, including officials of the bureau of internal revenue, as to Arnold's record as acting collector of internal revenue for the past year in the Dallas headquarters of the Northern Texas district.

The hearing was a reconsideration of the nomination, which previously had been sent to the senate by a unanimous vote, then received when Senator O'Daniel asked to present more evidence.

The Junior Texas senator has called Arnold "personally obnoxious" to him. He was recommended by Senator Connally (D-Tex.).

Sensors Call Witnesses

Both senators have witnesses lined up to support their positions. Among the scheduled witnesses are several Texas automobile dealers, called by both O'Daniel and Connally, to tell of transactions involving Arnold.

Several weeks ago, Arnold has testified, he bought two new cars on the same day, then sold one of them, a Pontiac, at a profit of approximately $400. Later he repurchased the Pontiac at a loss when he learned that the dealer from whom he bought the car was protesting to O'Daniel.

O'Daniel Cites "Complaints"

O'Daniel told a senate finance subcommittee when requesting reconsideration of the nomination, that complaints against Arnold's activities as acting Collector of Revenue in the Dallas office of the Bureau had reached him from a former revenue agent who was discharged by Arnold.

The senator also told the subcommittee that a revenue official told him that Arnold had recommended an expansion program for the Dallas headquarters, but that Arnold's proposals had been turned down as "bad and worthless."

Still another matter O'Daniel presented to the subcommittee concerning Arnold was the issuance of capital stock to a wartime company in New Mexico which had proposed to manufacture magnesium.

Tax Stamps Discussed

There were no tax stamps affixed to the stock, according to a report he received, O'Daniel said, and inquiries into the matter at the Dallas revenue office, failed to bring a satisfactory explanation of the situation.

The Arnold situation takes the spotlight temporarily in the patronage squabble between Connally and O'Daniel.

Only yesterday the senate judiciary committee voted 9 to 6 to hold up action on the nomination of Joe B. Dooley of Amarillo as a Federal District Judge for Northern Texas until the Federal Bureau of Investigation make a customary checkup on the nominee.

More Fights Seen

As in the Arnold nomination, Dooley was recommended by Connally and opposed by O'Daniel as "both personally objectionable and personally obnoxious to me."

Hearings on both nominations have developed that O'Daniel in the future probably will as a matter of routine vigorously fight all nominations for federal posts in Texas unless he has had a voice in the selection of the nominee.

He complained to the judiciary group that he had never had one of his candidates for a federal job selected, even though he has been a senator six years.

TYSON IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD MEET

BY PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff.

Tom L. Tyson brought an inspirational message to the Brotherhood of the First Baptist church Tuesday evening following the completion of the organization of the body.

A number of songs were led by E. J. Lane, S. K. Brizet and D. D. Murray, with L. H. Adams of Palestine as pianist. "The Old Rugged Cross" was the solo brought by Rev. Jared I. Cartledge, pastor.

The banquet was served by the women of the church. M. A. Teckell, president, presided. The invocation was given by Fred Ware and the benediction was pronounced by E. C. Butler of Emhouse.

An announcement of the Navarro County Baptist Brotherhood at Memorial Baptist church, March 31, was made by C. O. Ferguson, president of that Brotherhood. Rev. Mr. Cartledge made an announcement about the revival meeting beginning next Sunday and extending for eight days.

Officers Are Named.
Officers selected were Leighton B. Dawson, vice president; R. J. Purifoy, program chairman; and Brown Thompson, secretary.

The subject discussed by Tyson, chairman of the board of deacons of the church and teacher of the Pals class, was "The Place of a Brotherhood in This Modern World." He termed the present prospects for a successful Brotherhood as the best in a decade. He stressed the necessity that a brotherhood must be organized, and is only justified if such needs are met.

The need for a more active and useful citizenship was another matter in the field of a brotherhood discussed by the able speaker who asserted he was proud of Corsicana, expected to live the remainder of his life here, and watch his son grow to manhood—and then he declared that "we have witnessed many signs of a decadent citizenship" during the past few years—had witnessed the outbreak like a pestilence—delinquency and incorrigibility of teen-age boys, Parents "Easily Blamed."

Tyson said it was easy to blame the parents, and figuratively wash our hands of the matter by saying that boys have always been bad, etc.

"When it reaches these proportions (referring to recent cases) it is the fault of society—all of us," Tyson added, and then pointed out that the First Baptist Church of Corsicana doesn't have a Boy Scout troop sponsored, "haven't provided a well-rounded full-orbed program for our boys and girls."

The speaker added in passing, however, that the Boy Scout troop would be reported at the next church conference, spoke of the enlargement program for the church plant (adding it was only half large enough) and then launched into a discussion of the world-wide effects and possibilities of brotherhood and Organization Urged.

Tyson asserted that the peace of the world was dependent on the enlightenment of the people—"men of good will organized around the world." He spoke of those who opposed to the Christian religion as being organized, as well as those who ignorantly contribute to war.

The attorney referred to the recent appeal by the president of the Southern Baptist Convention that the Christians take a hand in the strained relations with Moscow.

Tyson then declared that whether peace reigns or this civilization is destroyed in atomic fury depends on the church men as well as whether the civil rights of man are respected in this nation through the forbearance and self-restraint of the church men.

NCCU Work Discussed.
Turning to another phase of his discussion, Tyson spoke of his work with the National Conference of Christians and Jews, outlined the tenets of that institution that recognized the differences of the religious groups involved, stressed their "joint tenancy on God's footstool," and attempts to see that the civil rights and religious liberties of everyone are protected.

At this juncture, the speaker took time to outline the beginning of the Nazi persecution of the Jews in Germany, then the priests and other groups.

Tyson outlined the responsibility of all to guarantee religious liberty regardless of how or what kind of religion a person may hold to, preserve freedom of speech and freedom from the fear of war. He appealed for a sufficient power to insure peace, but tempered by the Christian message. The speaker told of the heritage of all the civilizations and progress that has passed on—the changes of the past decades.

Central Figure.
The central figure of the ages is not Churchill, Attlee, Roosevelt, Stalin or Hitler who set the world afire, but is this Christ we worship, the orator declared, and added that the central place is not Washington, D. C., 10 Downing Street or Parliament in London, San Francisco where the United Nations was organized, or Lake

MANY RECORDS ESTABLISHED BY CORSICANA TEXAS LOOP TEAMS STILL STAND AFTER 45 YEARS

By GROVER HEIMAN
Sun Sports Staff.

The Texas League on April 28 will celebrate 45 years of continuous existence.

Back in the winter of 1902 the Texas League was revived with Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Paris, Corsicana, and Denison-Sherman in the loop.

That was the Golden Year in Baseball for Corsicana, the year Corsicana won the pennant and set records that are secure in the record books today.

J. D. Donk Roberts, Upton Blair, and R. B. Seay of Corsicana accepted an invitation to sit in with the moguls that winter and came home with a franchise and little else.

O'Connor Manager.
Mike O'Connor, a big tall Irish-

Success where important conferences have been held, but it is an unmarked and unidentified spot in a rock quarry just outside of Jerusalem where an empty tomb gave forth the Prince of Peace.

Tyson then stressed what the citizenship, this brotherhood, the church undertakes should turn to eternal things and to the coming again of Christ. As he concluded his finely-received inspirational address, Tyson declared that the rallying around of "The Old Rugged Cross" was essential so that the welfare of the least would become the concern of all, where there would be no fear of oppression, want, or the spectre of war.

He said that if such a goal was attained, it will be because the world has become leavened with Christian brotherhood from small groups as the local organization and not through the mighty plans of the statesmen of the world, and then appealed for the members to see that the Brotherhood leads to larger and better service.

Revival Next Week.
The pastor said the revival meeting next week would feature and stress services for the youth of the church and the city of Corsicana and invited everyone to attend who is interested in the young people.

Tommie Dickson of Baylor will be the singer and leader of the young people in the revival while Rev. Herbert Dollahite of Fort Arthur will be the minister. The morning services will be held at 7 a. m. daily with coffee and doughnuts served at 6:45 a. m. The early service is in order that the young people and business men may attend. Miss Jewel Taylor will be the pianist for the revival.

"The young people need what you and I need—Jesus Christ," the pastor said.

man, was free for the moment and the Corsicana baseball magnate offered him the managership of the club. O'Connor accepted and recruited a team from an independent team that played for the I. & G. N. railroad, but was disbanding.

It was extremely lucid to the Corsicana owners that the city could not support a team because of the lack of population and began what is remembered today as the smartest bit of horse-trading and ball player talent finding in this section.

Corsicana has produced many great baseball players and most fans remember those players. They also remember J. Donk Roberts, Upton Blair, and R. B. Seay, who began his professional baseball career in 1902 as a director of the local club and continued in a baseball capacity for the remainder of his life.

Roberts' League President in 1902 he was elected president of the Texas League, serving until his death in 1929.

Roberts was known as one of the shrewdest baseball scouts of the era. Ed Polk Sr., who was secretary of the Corsicana club, remembers how Roberts subscribed to all newspapers where high school teams were winners, clipping box scores and keeping track of promising players. More than once Roberts signed players to contracts and then sold them before the season opened. By this second profit and from the sale of players, Roberts was able to keep his team in the black side of the ledger.

Big Mike O'Connor assembled a team to start the 1909 season. The team had eleven players and in the record book of today is renowned as the team that began adhering to the 11 player rule, but the truth is the adherence to the 11 player rule was dictated by necessity.

Corsicana could support only eleven players!

This rugged eleven opened the season with practically no high hopes. The players were sandlotters with the exception of O'Connor and several others, but the 1902 Corsicana team went on to make history.

Sensational Record.
The team was a red hot sensation and its exploits are still dear in the memory of old time baseball fans and players.

It was 58 out of its first 67 games; setting a percentage of .865 that still stands as tops for a split season!

In the final half of the season the team compiled a record against 14 losses for .882 percentage!

The final, full season percentage .793, 88 won and 23 lost, stands today as the record.

In the first half it won 27 straight—A world's record!

Corsicana, Texas.
During that time, Corsicana had a law forbidding Sunday ball games and one Sunday the Corsicana nine was scheduled to meet Texas "A" so the game was transferred to Ennis. That was the site of the famous 51-3 game—which Corsicana won!

Roberts, although a director, was the guiding hand of the team. Upton Blair served as business manager, and O'Connor handled the team on the field.

Corsicana's poorest showing in the second half of the race was attributed to a strengthening of the Dallas team and the fact that Shortstop Walter Morris and Pitcher White grew dissatisfied and deserted to play ball with independent clubs.

The same Walter Morris is now president of the Big State and East Texas leagues. Morris was very anxious for Corsicana to get back into baseball this year in the Big State league.

Argued With Dallas.
In 1903 Corsicana returned to the league with another good team and although it lost the first half of the season, came into the famous battle with the Dallas Giants. Going down the home stretch both nines were neck and neck.

Corsicana claimed an outfielder by the name of Charles Barrett, but he played with Dallas. Donk Roberts of Corsicana and Joe Gardner, Dallas owner, had the beginning of their famed feud that ran for years.

At a meeting of club owners it was declared that Corsicana's contention was sustained, and all games that Barrett had been used in were forfeited. The Dallas owner called the meeting "rummy" session and an appeal was made to the National Association. The Association came back with the ruling that the squabble was a league matter.

Still arguing, Corsicana and Dallas further complicated things by contending that a certain game was to be played on home grounds, the outcome being Corsicana and Dallas each appearing at the home park and tossing a ball across the plate.

If the Corsicana contention had been observed, the Oil City team would have won the second half crown.

Sandlotter Won Game.
The next year, 1904, Corsicana won the first half of the race and wound up in the playoff against Fort Worth. This was the year that Corsicana, lacking a hurler, induced a local bank clerk, J. N. Bankhead, to hurl. He did an shut out the Fort Worth team!

Fort Worth was the Corsicana opponent in the playoff and further shenanigans were pulled. Earlier in the season the Beaumont club, owned by a rich oil man, had purchased a number of the Oil City players, weakening the nine.

Corsicana added so many of the Dallas Giants to the roster in the playoff that Dallas felt that some of the games should have been played there. One of the Dallas players was Branch T. Riekey, a catcher, who went on to play ball with the St. Louis Browns and New York Yankees and is now prey of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

One of the players sold to Beaumont was Trapper Longley, who hit the apple at a .700 clip for a month and in many games he hung up his bat with a 1,000 average.

In 1905 Corsicana lost its franchise because the town failed to support the team, ending a great era of Texas League baseball that began back 45 years ago.

MEETING AT TABLE
We had never met each other; we had judged from what we'd heard.
We were merely names connected with events which had occurred.
Each had voiced his firm opinion that the other must be wrong.
And we fancied with that notion
we could never get along.
But, we met one day at luncheon,
side by side at table sat, and we smiled at one another and we talked of this and that.
He told about his children and the hopes for them he had.
The sweetness of his daughter, and the mischief in the lad.
The schooling he would give them, and he proudly let me see their pictures, which he carried.
Like my own they seemed to be.
There was one the Lord had taken and his sigh was honest stuff.
So I couldn't keep from saying:
"And they've told me you are tough!"
Oh, there seems no doubt about it,
it troubles small and troubles great
Can be met with understanding, but they grow if met with hate.
Let the unkindness be
It is only harm they do.
Get to know the other fellow and to learn his point of view.
Since we all must live together,
be our statues what they may,
How in peace to work together we can surely find the way.

DOING SOMETHING

Corsicana citizens are taking concrete steps to remove some conditions leading to juvenile delinquency. Organization of the News-boys Athletic club will provide wholesome and properly-supervised recreation for the young boys. Boxing and other sports will be available.

A Knot-Hole Gang is to be organized within the immediate future under the direction of Rev. J. E. Inlow, local pastor, and associates. This will provide a properly-supervised outlet for the energies and enthusiasm of many youngsters.

Sunday School classes and leaders have been sponsoring picnics and other recreational programs, while the city park's facilities are more in demand as Spring approaches. Supplementary aids to the Home environment are available through church and other organizations interested in our youth—the citizens of tomorrow. The first responsibility is the Home—then the community and its various subdivisions. Idleness and misdirected activities are among the greater causes of delinquency—whether youth or adult.

Camps can be provided. Some educational and church leaders plan camps and fishing trips for their youngsters this summer.

Withholding Slip May Be Used For Some Tax Returns

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Who can use Form W-2, the withholding statement, in making his 1946 income tax return?

What W-2 is the receipt given an employee by his boss for the tax withheld from his wages or salary in 1946.

Full tax is supposed to have been withheld from all regular wages and salaries up to $5,000.

You can use Form W-2 if your income was under $5,000 and came entirely from wages or salary from which the tax was withheld.

But—suppose, in addition to your regular wages or salary, you had income from which no tax was withheld.

You, too, can use Form W-2 but only:

If the additional income was no more than $100 and came from interest, dividends, or wages from which no tax was withheld, provided the total income still was under $5,000.

You could not use Form W-2 if—in addition to regular wages or salary—you had any income from:

Short-Form Sometimes In such a case—any income at all from rent, or professional fees, or annuities, you use the 1040 short-form, if your total income was under $5,000.

(Anyone with $5,000 or more income, from any source, must use the 1040 long-form.)

Can they make a combined return on Form W-2? Yes—

1. If their combined income, from which tax was regularly withheld, was $5,000.

2. And if any additional income—from interest, dividends, or wages from which tax was not withheld—was no more than $100, and the total income for both was under $5,000.

Combined Salary Factor Suppose the combined salary of yourself and wife was $5,000 or more but individually was under $5,000 or more.

You could file separate returns on Form W-2, but not a joint one, since the combined income was $5,000 or more.

Or—you could file a joint return on 1040 long-form, which is for income of $5,000 or more.

(In this case you couldn't file a joint return on the 1040 short-form which is for total income under $5,000.)

Texas Law Different Husbands and wives can't file separately on Form W-2 in the nine community property states of Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington.

They can file separately on the 1040 short-form, if their individual salaries are under $5,000.

If you know that your deductions—for things like medical bills and charitable contributions—are more than 10 percent of your income, don't use Form W-2. You will lose money.

In such a case use the 1040 long-form where you'll have to itemize your deductions but can take full credit for them, even though using the long-form means figuring out your own tax.

There's no place on Form W-2 for listing deductions. You don't have to because a standard deduction of 10 percent for everyone using Form W-2 was allowed for in the tax withheld during the year.

That's why—if your deductible expenses actually were more than 10 percent—you should use the 1040 long-form.

Penelope Coach Is Former Resident Of Emmett Community

Penelope Wolverines, Hill county and district girls' basketball champions, are coached by R. E. McAfee, veteran school executive and coach, native and former resident of Emmett, Navarro county.

The Wolverines have been defeated only once in the 34 games played this season. Mesquite High upset the Penelope sextette in the only setback of the year.

Penelope has carried off top honors in six tournaments. That combination will play the Hillsboro Junior College Squads in a benefit game Tuesday night in Hillsboro.

The team has been entered in the 340 high school girls' basketball league of Texas tournament in Hillsboro, March 12-15.

Dawson Native Died James V. Smith, 60, who died at his home in Hillsboro, Saturday night, was buried in Dawson Monday. He was a native of Dawson.

Surviving are two brothers, George and William A. Smith, both of Hillsboro, and a sister, Mrs. S. H. Anderson, Tyler.

NOKES AND STOCKARD PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS TEACHERS' MEETING

The Navarro County Teachers' Association will hold its regular meeting on Friday night, February 28, in the county courtroom here at 7:30. J. C. Watson, county superintendent, stated Tuesday.

State Representatives George Nokes, Jr. and Jerry Stockard are scheduled to address the assembled members. State Senator James E. Taylor of Kerens has also been extended an invitation to speak.

The biggest item of business to be taken up at the meeting will be the election of 8 delegates to represent the Navarro unit at the district convention at Waco on March 14 and 15.

Especially invited to the Friday meeting are all members of the State Teachers' Association, trustees, members of the Parent-Teachers' Association, and any others interested.

Coming in for special attention in the meeting will be the discussion of what the legislature is doing, especially in regard to legislation affecting the schools and teachers.

Officers of the Navarro county association are H. L. Moore, Richland, president; A. G. Sebastian, Midland, vice-president; and Mrs. G. E. Ramsey, Blooming Grove, secretary-treasurer.

"The impression that has arisen from yesterday's debate in the British parliament that American interest in Palestine and the settlement of Jews there is motivated by partisan and local politics is most unfortunate and misleading."

It went on to declare that Mr. Truman's October stand simply reiterated the position he had communicated to Prime Minister Attlee as long ago as August 1945, and made public in November, 1946.

"America's interest in Palestine," the statement continued, "is of long and continuing standing. It is a deep and abiding interest shared by our people with regard to their political affiliation."

Bevin's part in the Palestine debate touched off brief flurry on the senate floor before the White House statement was issued.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) told his colleagues he thought it was "most unfortunate" and "almost astonishing" that the British foreign secretary in effect had accused the president of the United States of a "cheap political trick."

Douglas, whose prompt confirmation by the senate was assured, submitted his resignation yesterday to President Truman.

He was to be replaced by the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and told reporters he will hurry to England after a state department briefing on his new task.

Terminating Britain's current economic crisis the result of "exactions on all resources, human and otherwise," and on Feb. 26, only a few hours before his scheduled departure for England.

O. Max Gardner, former under-secretary of the treasury, was appointed to the post last December 3.

Investigating Theft Quantity Of Morphine Sheriff David Castles and other law enforcement officers are investigating the theft of a quantity of morphine from the Conn Drug Store in Hubbard about 5:30 Monday afternoon.

A total of 500 half-grain morphine tablets and half an ounce of liquid morphine were taken from a cabinet behind the prescription counter. The lock on the cabinet was broken and the morphine taken while clerks in the store were busy elsewhere.

CORSICANAN IN PHILIPPINES—Still talking up Texas is American Red Cross hospital worker Alma Williamson, Stoneleigh Hotel, Dallas, after a year in the Philippines. She is shown here at Clark Field, P. I., with another Texan who feels the same way. He is hospitalized Cpl. James Bollen of Corsicana, who used to sing with a band. In the army, Bollen is attached to the 77th Air Service Group. The shot was taken at the 24th General Hospital at Clark Field during a promotion stunt for the American Red Cross sponsored "Star Your State" contest now going on in the Far Eastern Theatre of Operations.

DAUGHTER OF EUREKA RESIDENT BOOSTS TEXAS DURING RED CROSS HOSPITAL DUTY IN PHILIPPINES

CLARK FIELD, P. I., Feb. 25. (SPL)—En route home from the Philippine Islands is American Red Cross worker, Alma Williamson, Stoneleigh Hotel, Dallas, Texas, after spending more than a year as a hospital recreation worker on Luzon. The Dallas girl plans to leave the Philippines around the middle of February.

Miss Williamson has recently been stationed at the 24th General Hospital on the site of famous Clark Field, some 60 miles outside of Manila in the town of Angeles. For several months last year the town and surrounding territory was much in prominence in Manila newspapers as one of the more lively centers of the Huk uprising activity.

Well-known on the post as the "girl from Texas," Miss Williamson is always thinking up ways of publicizing her state. During the current Red Cross-sponsored "Star Your State" contest, being run in the Far Eastern theater of operations, the Dallas girl donated a Texas 10-gallon hot and bonfire for her tours of the hospital wards.

Prior to joining the Red Cross, Miss Williamson owned a ladies' ready to wear store in Dallas. She attended North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, Texas. Before joining the staff of the 24th General Hospital at San Fernando, La Union, she is the daughter of Mrs. W. F. Williamson of Eureka, Texas.

Annual Report Of Assessor-Collector Excess fees amounting to $8,813.93 were revealed in the annual report of Halley Blake, assessor and collector of taxes, for 1946. (Hed Monday afternoon in the office of J. C. Gaston, district clerk, Miss Blake is now employed at the city hall.)

Fees of assessing and collecting taxes in Navarro county from all sources aggregated $29,132.88. Deductible fees and expenses amounted to $20,318.95, leaving the $8,813.93 excess.

The expenses included deputies and assistants salaries, $13,020.84; premium on surety bond, $394.63; stationery and office supplies, $1,563.43; telephone and telegraph, $230.96; other expenses, $359.24, including postage; and salary for the assessor-collector, $4,750.

INCOME TAX RETURNS SHOULD BE MAILED TO DALLAS OFFICE

H. E. Arnold, acting collector of internal revenue for the 2nd Texas district, reminded taxpayers today that their income tax returns should be filed before March 15 at his office at Dallas, Texas.

Collector Arnold cautioned that returns should not be sent to Washington and thereby cause needless expense and delay in shipping the returns back to the home district.

Because of the millions of returns that must be handled at this time of year, the collector urged taxpayers to facilitate the work by making sure their returns are complete and signed, that all necessary documents are enclosed, and that the envelope (if mailed) is addressed to "Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas."

Although March 15 is the deadline, Mr. Arnold requested taxpayers to save both themselves and the government needless expense and inconvenience by filing as far ahead of March 15 as possible.

Corsicanans Active In UT Fraternities

In an announcement of officers for the coming semester, Phi Kappa Psi of Texas University named Bill Stokes of Corsicana as secretary.

New pledges of Kappa Sigma are Jimmy Dyer III and Josh Halbert, also of Corsicana.

Clyde Owen of Dallas was here Wednesday morning.

HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN HOPEFUL OF BANNER SEASON THIS YEAR

Hopeful of a banner year, the Corsicana Tigers will don football paraphernalia this afternoon to begin a 30 days Spring training session.

Eleven lettermen will greet the coaching staff, a man for every position, offering the most experienced group of gridman to romp on the hallowed turf of Tiger Field in a number of years.

Given little chance of coping wins last year, the amazing little Tigers battled through extremely formidable opposition to take two district wins and two inter-sectional tilts.

Lettermen returning this year are: June Clark, Bill Davis, Kelly Paul Burkhardt, and Gerald Bowen; backs; Blair Beamon and Herman Barrs, ends; Bill Sharpley and Charles Blittner, tackles; Jimmy Mash and Jim Cavender, guards; and Bob Douglas, center.

Returning with the lettermen is a finely balanced squad and a talented contingent from Junior High school, which resumed football last year.

Coach Boyd Payne, a Trinity grad, but as he terms it, "a football tramp," has played before at Baylor, Burleson and Hillsboro Junior colleges. He has brought to Corsicana a varied offensive attack that proved its worth last year as the Tigers, even in losing, were as spectacular as a Roman candle.

Better Line Seen

The local eleven this year will remain an offensive minded team, but will offer a much better and heavier line. The razzle dazzle, wide open style of play, so pleasing to the grandstand squatter, will be offered again.

Corsicana will use the single wing, the short punt, variations of the box and wings, and the formidable T formation. The emphasis in 1947 will be on the line slugging ground attack that proved valuable in the latter part of the 1946 season.

"We know the boys now," Coach Payne said, "and we can dispense with the preliminaries. Now we are going to play football. If there is any changing around it will be in the Spring session. I wouldn't be surprised to see some lettermen resting on the bench by next fall."

Prospects are admittedly good at the Collin street school, but the mentoring staff is fully aware that other schools in the district will have equally good if not better prospects.

The big question mark in the Tiger camp will be a passer and punter. With the graduation of Lefty Bill Reed, the Tigers find themselves needing a man who can toss the hide and boot it equally well. The great search for that man will begin this afternoon.

It is a strong possibility that linemen will be shifted to the backfield and backfield men to the line during the spring session. Several excellent B string boys and Junior High grads will be in there fighting for berths.

Coach Payne this year will be assisted by his same coaching staff of Garland Matthews and Ollis Pederson. Matthews, a graduate of North Texas State, will mentor the linemen and Pederson, another North Texas alumnus, will coach the backfield.

Equipment was issued at 3 p.m. Thursday to an expected large turnout. Equipment on hand will completely outfit about 60-65 players. Football spirit in the school has picked up enormously and late comers will likely not find equipment.

Following the issuance of equipment, the Tigers will go by truck to Tiger Field to start conditioning themselves for the strenuous period ahead.

One-Act Play Meet To Be Held Here For Jr. Colleges

The District Six Junior College One-Act Play Tournament will be held in Corsicana, March 14, with the winner to compete the following week in the state tournament in Hillsboro, M. S. Cook, director of Navarro Junior College, announced Thursday morning.

Final tryouts for the play cast to represent Navarro were held at the college Tuesday evening.

The cast selected to present "Happy The Bride" is as follows: Joyce Franklin, Louise Smith, James Smyth, Marilyn DuBose and Marvin Harry. McAfee Daniel is stage manager. The characters were selected from three casts presenting the play. Mrs. G. E. Ramsey of Blooming Grove, a director who has produced many winning plays, made the selection.

Others taking part in the tryouts included Jean Smith, Francheille McWilliams, McCurin Harwell, Jo Frances Hamilton, Bob Goulder, Joy Hall, Robert Jackson and McAfee Daniel.

Cotton Insurance

Only 16 days remain for Navarro county farmers to file application for cotton insurance for 1947, Cline Young, local ACA administrator, reminded producers Thursday.

March 15 is the deadline, he said. Applications must be in the local office by that date in order to be valid.

Sam Owen of Waxahatchie was a Corsicana visitor Wednesday morning.

WE SERVICE POUR CAR

As You Want It Served—
TO MERIT YOUR FRIENDSHIP AND GOODWILL!

For several years, we have realized that all automotive service (including our own) has not been of the caliber which you as a customer or we as a dealer have desired, due primarily to shortages of manpower and materials—a situation over which we have had no control.

Today, however, with more experienced mechanics in our organization and with service parts becoming more readily available than they have been for years, we want you to know that our car service is rapidly getting back to normal, and, as conditions continue to improve, you may expect to receive from us the same fine service that you have been accustomed to receiving in previous years.

We of the Chevrolet service organization want you to know that we value your service business to the fullest degree and that we are determined to give you such sound and satisfying service that you will want to be our customer for a long time to come!

Come in today and at regular intervals. Skilled mechanics, modern tools and equipment—quality parts and materials—all adding up to service that you'll call superior in all ways.

PNEUMONIA DEATH RATE IN TEXAS TOO HIGH, SAYS DOCTOR

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—(Spt.)—According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,400 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring months. Pneumonia is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. ## Waco Court Unable To Hear Local Case

WACO, Feb. 22.—Because Chief Justice Giles P. Lester and Associate Justice Jake Tiley are both Woodmen of the World, Tenth Court of Civil Appeals can't hear an appeal of Mrs. Ollie Sue Johnson from a Navarro county judgment in favor of the WOW. So Judge Lester has written the supreme court asking if he transferred to some other appeals court.

temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice. If temperature persists or the cold lingers on, he should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon starting treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once when pneumonia is suspected. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

CLUB NEWS

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion to see how quickly it allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Governor And Mrs. Jester Entertain At Austin Mansion

Governor and Mrs. Beauford Jester were hosts to about five hundred guests on Wednesday evening, February 19, at a reception in the mansion, honoring state officials and their wives and members of the fifteenth legislature and their wives.

The serving table was centered with a bubbling fountain, around which was a spring garden arrangement of iris, jonquils and pink camellias. The mantels were adorned with silver bowls of purple fruit, flanked by pink tapers tied with matching ribbons and gilded with camellias. The hall decorated featured arrangements of fiery chrysanthemums and seasonal greenery, and stock and roses were used throughout the reception rooms.

A musical background was provided by nine members of the University of Texas band with Colonel George E. Hurt as director. Received Guests. Governor and Mrs. Jester, were joined by Governor and Mrs. Alan Shivers, Attorney General and Mrs. Price Daniel, Chief Justice and Mrs. James P. Alexander, President of the Senate and Mrs. Ben Hays, Speaker of the House and Mrs. W. O. Reed.

Also included in the house party were Mrs. George Butler, Governor's Man Friday, Jesse James, Paul Brown, Olin Culberson, A. R. Henderson, George Parkhouse, Roger C. Evans, Bill Tippin, H. L. Winfield, Alton and T. C. Chadwick and James Taylor.

PORTAL PAY

CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE. orders in court or administrative regulations, as a defense against suits brought under the nation's wage and hours laws.

Suits Over $3 Billion. The suits total in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. Five dissenting Democrats on the judiciary committee challenged the "good faith" clause with this query: "Why do not the proponents of the bill honestly say they want to kill the fair labor standards act?"

Other sections of the measure would (A) prohibit suits to recover pay for any "activities" except those carried on by employees under contract or implied agreement; (B) set up a one-year limitation on back pay suits (C) permit out-of-court settlements provided there was no "fraud or duress" and (D) reduce from double damages to the actual overtime involved the amount that could be paid in any judgment.

Senate Action Sought. Across the capital, Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the senate judiciary committee hopes to obtain senate action next week on a bill that takes a somewhat different approach.

The senate measure's first section would declare the portal suits "null and void." Then, as insurance against being overturned by the supreme court, the bill provides conditions which would make such suits unprofitable. These provisions include such conditions as shifting the burden of proof to the employee, barring collection of extra damages and relieving the employer of a charge for the claimant's attorney's fees.

Mrs. Margaret Blue and Mrs. Lucretia Gortner have just returned from a month's stay in Los Angeles, Calif.

Missionary Union Organized Powell

Organization of a Woman's Missionary Union of the Powell Baptist church was perfected at a meeting held February 24 at the home of Mrs. H. Hanks. Rev. Mr. Sluder pastor of the church, addressed the meeting, while Mrs. Sluder presided as chairman. Officers elected are Mrs. Dick Bush, president; Mrs. Jack Bagley, first vice president; Mrs. Morgan Lowe, second vice president; Mrs. W. L. Chevening, secretary; Mrs. Valon Lohon, treasurer; and Mrs. R. Hanks, social chairman. The next meeting will be held in the home of the president, time to be determined later.

Pop Pops and Pop Now Seeks Damages

A local beverage firm was named as defendant in a damage suit filed in district court Wednesday by an Athens man, seeking $1,500 total damages from an explosion.

The man, an employee of an Athens amusement club, claims in the petition that he was placed in a cooler box when one of the bottles exploded, cutting his left arm and hand.

Loss of two fingers and a thumb is claimed because a tendon in the arm was severed. Negligence is claimed on the part of the bottling company.

"Satisfied Copy" Of Divorce Requested

The colored gentry remains a source of amazement to District Clerk J. C. (Rusty) Gaston, especially in this realm of divorces.

A negro veteran came to the office yesterday seeking a certified copy of his wife's divorce from another man. A check of the records showed the suit had been dismissed.

The day before a preacher came in to check on his divorce status, found the divorce from his first wife had never been granted. He has married a number of times since then.

The one that brought the house down was the request of a negro: "I want a satisfied copy of my divorce."

Peggy Jo Myers Becomes Bride Of Ernest K. Ashley

Miss Peggy Jo Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Myers, became the bride of Ernest K. Ashley, son of K. N. Ashley, of Irving, in a ceremony Wednesday afternoon at the Assembly of God church. Officiant was the Rev. J. E. Inlow.

The bride chose a powder blue frock which she wore with a white wool coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Miss Jean Inlow, who attended the bride, wore a dress of Copenhagen blue with black accessories and a corsage of carnations in a deeper shade of pink. Denzil Schomerus attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Ashley was graduated in 1946 from Corsicana High school and has been employed at McAdams Pharmacy. Mr. Ashley, who attended school at Lansing, Mich., was in service two years, seven months of which were spent in the Pacific theater. He is at present associated with Vulcan Bearing Machine Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley will make their home in Irving.

Hold County Court In District Court

It's up to the judge where he will hold his court, following the assumption that where the judge is, there is the court.

Some judges get tired and hot, retire to the lawn or to the back yard. Some get thirsty and convene in a local bistro, much the same fashion as Roy Bean, self-styled "Law West of the Pecos," Judge L. L. Powell pulled a new one today with his county court session, holding forth in the district court room, which is currently on the "not in use" classification.

Instead of walking downstairs to hold county court in the county court room, where the tax department is holding sway, the judge held court in the district court room.

Pins In Food Just Cause For Divorce

Putting pins in his food was the last straw, a man contended in his suit for divorce, which was granted Wednesday by Judge G. F. McDonald of Hillsboro, who replaced Judge A. P. May.

In an earlier petition, the man asked for divorce on grounds that his wife went about the yard in "the barest of clothes that almost her entire nude body was exposed to the eyes of the neighbors."

When the court refused a divorce on the grounds his wife wore shorts, the man enumerated his indignities: she married him for "spite, bit, struck, and generally mistreated him."

When she attempted to kill him, he alleged, by putting pins in his food, that was all, brother.

Better Weather Helps. The box car scarcity has improved considerably in the past ten days with better weather. Liberty said today, and some of the backlog of shipping has been cut down.

"With the opening of Great Lakes Navigation in April, however, there should be a substantial improvement in the shipment of newsprint as well as other commodities. But the car shortage itself is going to stay right with us," Liberty said.

All newsprint mills are now getting enough cars to keep in production, Liberty said, adding that as far as he knew all Canadian mills were operating.

pute to send the measure to its expenditures committee, which considered similar legislation last session without action.

Speedy Action Seen

Chairman Hoffman (R-Mich.) indicated his group will not rush hearings on the merger proposal, however, because it has many other matters of higher priority to act upon.

The house committee currently is conducting five separate investigations on topics ranging from surplus property disposal methods to what government agencies could be abolished.

In the senate, Gurney and fellow members of his armed services committee predicted confidence to a reporter that they will win jurisdiction over the measure.

Allen already has scheduled a meeting of his expenditures body today and the issue appeared to be a likely topic of discussion.

If a formal fight is decided upon and if Vandenberg adheres to his original opinion that Gurney's committee should handle the legislation, Allen will appeal the presiding officer's ruling to the full senate.

The dispute grew out of wording of last year's reorganization act which provided in one section that matters having to do with consolidating government agencies should be referred to the expenditures committee and in another that legislation dealing with the nation's military forces should go to the armed services group.

(In view of the constitutional separation of powers between the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government, congressional sources said there was a question whether Marshall could be compelled to comply with a house subpoena. When Secretary of Interior Krug was subpoenaed by the house surplus property committee last session, he appeared before the committee but said he was doing so "voluntarily."

Veteran congressional employee said the Krug subpoena was the first issued by a house committee for a cabinet officer in a score of years.

Chairman of Subcommittee

Weichel is chairman of the subcommittee on ship sales, charters and lay-ups, which has been investigating the status of merchant ships transferred to Russia and Great Britain during the war and not yet returned to this country.

In a statement, Weichel said: "In the course of the hearings there has been a refusal to disclose to the committee and congress certain communications and today I have caused a subpoena to issue for the Honorable George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, to appear before the committee and there to testify on matters concerning this transaction and bring with him all books, papers and communications covering some 100 merchant ships belonging to the United States and now in the possession of Russia which have not been returned to this country."

District Supervisors, Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District: Morris Crawford, chairman; W. C. Pearce, vice-chairman; Thad Jones, secretary; E. Creekmore and W. Lewis David, members.

Corsicana Work Unit.

C. C. McClung, conservation leader, Angus conservation group, invited all members of the group to meet at his nursery office Thursday night for a discussion of the progress being made and plans for the immediate future. Valuable information was obtained by those in attendance through an exchange of ideas on the various conservation practices. Considerable interest in pasture development, planting pasture grasses, and land preparation was manifested by all.

Results of practices already applied were given by J. R. English, C. C. McClung, Allen Edens, and C. M. Gillespie. Others present were: C. A. Prethaupt, J. D. Walker, Allen Edens, Jr., A. D. Rudder, J. L. Coffey and S. Thomas, C. E. Hutchinson and W. T. Moon of the Corsicana soil conservation service office were also present.

Jim Grimmitt, Barry conservation group, is now in the process of sodding land retired from cultivation to be used as pasture and as terrace outlets. Bermuda grass roots that have been plowed up in the sand are dropped and covered with a one-way plow.

Roger Johnson and Percy Varnell of the Barry group were also busy sodding and fencing last week. The sodded areas are to be used as pasture and will serve later as a place to empty terrace outlet water. Varnell started his sodding by using sod turf, changing later to using Bermuda grass roots, which proved to be three times as fast.

V. A. Lonon continues his weekly schedule of installing conservation measures on his farms in the North Powell conservation group. An 11-acre pasture sodding job is the latest addition to the many other practices completed since last fall. The land was bedded and chunks of Bermuda sod dropped fairly close in every other middle and the beds levelled down.

Pete Ross, also the North Powell conservation group, and who appears to be planning to install a complete conservation farm plan on his 115-acre farm in the first year of work with the district, was shaping and sodding a waterway last week.

R. E. Irvine started construction on a large stock pond on his farm below Eureka this week. Plans are under way to fence an old pond with steep banks where cattle have difficulty getting out after going in for water. Water will feed through a pipe to a trough below the dam, which will eliminate the bog holes.

Wortham Work Unit.

H. R. Stroube, member of the Stroube conservation group, sodded 14 acres of bottom land pasture. Construction and sodding of one terrace outlet channel has been completed and preparations are being made to construct another. Stroube plans to construct three new farm ponds and do additional pasture and terrace outlet area sodding.

Two and one-half miles of terrace lines have been run by technicians of the soil conservation service on the W. P. Brown farm east of Richland and construction should get under way this week. These terraces will empty onto a well-sodded pasture. Brown, a member of the Pearce conservation group, has also done approximately four acres of pasture clearing and has prepared his land for planting Hubam clover.

John Finch, member of the Mann conservation group, has already seeded 20 acres of Dallas grass which was planted broadcast on well-prepared land being retired from cultivation to pasture. The land was prepared with a disc harrow.

payments ought to come before any tax reduction.

Taft said at least $1,000,000,000 would be shaved off the $3,500,000,000 he wants available for a 20 percent overall cut in individual income taxes if Knowland's plan were finally adopted.

Larger Slash Seen

For that reason, the Ohio senator said he proposed the smaller debt payment pledge, although he noted that debt retirement could be considerably greater if congress adheres to the economics it promises.

The question of how high the economy pledge will go was left in doubt when the senate voted, 51 to 33, yesterday to cut $4,500,000,000 from President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1. The chamber, however, delayed final passage of the budget ceiling ruling until it decides the Knowland-Taft issue.

The house previously has approved a promise to squeeze $5,000,000,000 out of the president's figures, and Republican Leader Halleck (Ind.) said the vote by which this action was taken was something of a "mandate."

Use Of Withholding Statement As Tax Return Explained

By JAMES MARLOW.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—You're making your 1946 income tax return on Form W-2, the withholding statement.

That's the receipt the boss gives you for taxes withheld from your wages or salary in 1946. He must give it to you.

If you worked for more than one boss who withheld tax from you, get a Form W-2 receipt from each.

Must Send All.
You can't, without all the receipts, make a return on Form W-2. Without them all, you'll have to use Form 1040.

When you have them all, attach them to the Form W-2 receipt from your last boss.

That last one is the one you fill out and file. Don't fill out the others.

And—don't send money with it when you fill it out and mail it to the internal revenue collector.

Send No Money.
He'll check it. If you owe him money, he'll notify you. After he notifies you, you have 30 days to pay.

You'll get a refund if, in checking your return, he finds too much tax was withheld from you in 1946.

Husbands and wives don't have to worry about filing jointly or separately if they both had 1946 income and can use form W-2 as a separate or joint return.

Keep "Duplicate" Half.
The form W-2 you get from your boss is in "original" and "duplicate." Fill in the "original" and send it to the collector. Keep the "duplicate" half.

On the "original" the boss has written your name and address, his name and address, the amount of money he paid you, and the tax withheld.

That's all on the front of the "original." You don't do anything on the front. Except be sure your name and address are right.

Turn it over. You answer simple questions on the back.

Having filled it out, you now mail it to your nearest internal revenue collector. Remember: Don't send money with it.

(Friday: Using the 1040 short form.)

OLD-TIME BASEBALL OFFICIAL REVEALS INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF TRIS SPEAKER'S CAREER

By GROVER HEIMAN
Sun Sports Staff

Ed M. Polk Sr., is an old hand at the baseball game, one of the oldest in the city of Corsicana, a city that has seen a glorious baseball history unfolded, a city that now harbors such great old timers as Doc Foindecker, Duke Ransom, Fred Marberry, and was the starting point for Hall of Famer, Tris Speaker, the Hubbard City marvel.

Mention baseball and Ed Polk will talk as long as his voice will hold out and the listener will be enthralled by the tales of diamond play that remain today on the record book.

The subject of Tris Speaker came up the other day when Polk saw a photograph in the Daily Sun of Tris as a coach at the Cleveland Indians spring training camp. Thus unfolded an intimate, revealing story of the Hubbard City boy who rose to the greatest heights of baseball fame.

It's common history of Tris Speaker as the hitting marvel with the Cleveland team, of Tris Speaker as the fleet outfielder, still regarded as the best center-fielder to strike his strides in Bermuda grass, but how Tris Speaker got started is a story that few know.

Ed Polk knows that story, knows it because he was one of the boys who was instrumental in the Hubbard City boy playing his first game of professional baseball.

On Sandlot Team
Speaker's story began back in 1904 when Donk Roberts, president of the local club and later prexy of the league, and Polk, secretary of the club, were repairing the fence at the ball park. Every now and then, Roberts would watch a sandlot team playing in the park at that time.

He jabbed Polk in the ribs and said, "Watch this fat kid hit."

Polk did. The fat boy hit the ball a country mile. Roberts and Polk began observing the boy. One day he rode back to town with them in the buggy, the boy balancing on a high stool.

"What's your name son?" Roberts asked.

"Tris Speaker, sir."

"Do you want to play baseball?"

"That's the height of my ambition."

Tris Speaker was 16 years old at the time. He did want to play baseball. His teachers at Hubbard City school felt that the young youth wanted to play too much baseball. In the dead of winter when other boys were kicking a football around, Speaker brought his bat to school and would knock grounders against a fence, then field them on the rebound. His life was wrapped up in baseball.

Roberts Watched Kid
Donk Roberts kept his eye on the promising youth, who would come to Corsicana to play with the sandlot nine on Saturdays. The team would pay him a dollar to make the trip. His means of conveyance was an old gray mare.

Tris Speaker wanted to be a pitcher, but he also wanted to play ball all the time, much the same as Clint Hartung, well publicized New York Giant rookie of the present day. When Speaker wasn't pitching, he was playing the outfield.

In 1905, Polk can't recall the exact day, he got a call from Donk Roberts in Waco. The Corsicana franchise had been transferred to Cleburne, but Roberts and Polk still were the guiding hands. Roberts told Polk that two of their players had run together in a game and were injured. He wanted him to find the Speaker boy and send him to Waco on the midnight freight on which Roberts' brother-in-law was conductor.

Ed Polk grabbed a phone and called a friend in Hubbard City and told him the problem. The friend promised to see if he could locate Tris Speaker.

At midnight the freight rolled into Hubbard City, and under the insistence of the brother-in-law, daltied around switching and killing time. After the end of thirty minutes the conductor became worried. The train couldn't delay much longer, but no one had come forward to take the ride and there was no one who even looked like a ball player.

To the side of the station was a rotund youth garbed in blue jeans. The conductor went over and asked him his name.

"Tris Speaker."

Reported On Freight Train
The conductor nearly exploded. "Well, get on the train."

Thus Tris Speaker made the trip to his first professional baseball game in the Texas league on a freight train.

Donk Roberts started Speaker as a hurler in the first game and he turned in a good performance, having a winning margin, but in the ninth inning he tossed a fast ball when the batter was in the hole with two strikes and no balls. Speaker figured the batter would expect a deliberate ball and let it pass.

Lost First Game
The batter slammed it through the third baseman and that lost the ball game. Walking back to town, the team began ribbing the young boy, ribbing him rather strongly, until finally Speaker could absorb no more, and told the rest of the team that the man who lost the game was the third baseman. In saying it, Speaker angrily called the man an uncompensated man.

The third baseman was the team captain. A man named Donk Roberts was met the next morning by the team.

"Roberts, you've got to get rid of the rube. He called our team captain a man."

Roberts told them he would investigate the charge. There was no effort made to tell the president what the players had called Speaker. That day Roberts called Speaker aside and heard his story.

Tris Speaker stayed.

The rest of the year he played rightfield and pitched. After that year he was strictly an outfielder.

Ed Polk remembers the day of Tris Speaker. He remembers the days when Corsicana was a power in baseball.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS AND WIFE TO ATTEND MEETING

Superintendent and Mrs. W. H. Norwood of the Corsicana Public Schools leave Thursday to attend a meeting of the American Association of School Administrators, March 1-6, at Atlantic City, N. J.

This first postwar convention of the administrators promises to be one of the largest in the history of the organization, and is regarded as of extreme significance in the reorganization of elementary and secondary schools for the new peace era. The school executive disclosed while discussing his trip.

Many of the outstanding figures in schools, public life, governmental circles and other fields will appear on the various programs. The general sessions and the thirty-three afternoon discussion groups will include such speakers as President Conant of Harvard, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio; Supt. A. J. Stoddard of Philadelphia; National Education Association President Boaz A. Wanamaker; Assistant Secretary of the American section of the U. N. delegation at Paris; John Kieran, superintendent of schools, New York City; Howard Scharf, Presbyterian minister, Pittsburgh, Pa., and others.

W. H. Lemmel, superintendent of schools, Baltimore, Md.; Edgar Felter, state commissioner of education, Concord, N. H.; Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Newton, Mass.; R. V. Hunkins, superintendent of schools, Lead, South Dakota; Francis L. Bacon, superintendent of schools, Evanston, Ill.; Schuyler E. Berg, superintendent of schools, Rockford, Ill.; Claude L. Kulp, superintendent of schools, Ithaca, N. Y.; Ray Hamon, chief school housing section, U. S. Office of education, Washington, D. C.

EIGHT ARE HONORED AS SEASON CLOSES ON HOPEFUL NOTE

Basketball lettermen at Corsicana High school were announced Thursday by Coach Otis Pederson at the end of the 1947 season, during which the local team won two district titles and showed remarkable improvement in the latter stages of the race.

Lettermen are Bill Reed, second letter; Bill Davis, second letter; Kelly Paul Burkhardt, Gerald Bowen, Danny McLeod, Hal Gene Murphy, Noble Davis, and David Gipsen, manager.

Reed, McLeod, Noble Davis, and Murphy are seniors. Murphy will be awarded a sweater as will Gipsen, manager, but Reed, McLeod and Davis, who have football sweaters, will be issued letters with stripes and an "A" badge. Reed will be awarded the captain's star.

1948 Veterans
Already the local five is looking forward to the 1948 campaign. Returning will be Bill Davis, trying for his third letter and fourth football emblem, Kelly Burkhardt, Gerald Bowen, and possibly Hal Murphy, a vastly improved floor man. In addition to those lettermen, fine squadmen returning will be Max Carter, Joe Steen, and Bennie Poirch.

With promising B team will return to the Tigers next year in Leon Wylie, Corky Harkins, Ben Smith, Bobby McNeil, Mickey Bowers, Charles Littlejohn, Jerry Caton, and Jimmy Walsh. Jack Hilbert, a fine prospect, will be lost to the squad since his family has moved to Oklahoma.

Coming to High School this fall will be the entire state AAU consolation winning Junior High Panthers team, which will bolster local hopes for a winning five in District 10-AA.

Donald May Will Be Principal Speaker

Donald May, educational director of Consumers Co-operative Association, will be the principal speaker Monday at 4 p. m. in the county courtroom at the four county A. & M. College extension course class. R. L. Evans, county vocational school co-ordinator, announced today.

The course is under direction of E. V. Walton, associate professor of agriculture at A. & M. College. The extension course classes in agricultural education are held twice monthly.

An expected 60-70 educators are scheduled to attend the session. Other counties in this area are Limestone, Freestone and Ellis.

Guarantee Of 25 Pounds Of Sugar, Maybe 35, Given

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The government today guaranteed 25 pounds of sugar for household users during the first nine months of 1947 and an OPA official said it is a "safe guess" the year's individual allowance will be 35 pounds—10 more than last year.

In a joint statement, the Agricultural Department and the Office of Temporary Controls:

1. Reiterated that a new stamp, good for 10 pounds will be validated on April 1.

2. Announced another 10 pounds will be validated on July 1.

3. Announced increases in second quarter sugar rations for bakers, soft drink bottlers, candy makers, preserve manufacturers, and other industrial users, and for hotels, restaurants and eating places.

Household users already have been allocated five pounds of sugar for use during the first three months of this year.

ESTABLISHMENT OF BOYS, GIRLS CAMP IS BEING PLANNED

Sale of the 535 acre Arch Underwood farm, including three lakes, club house and other improvements, including the furnishings, has been announced by R. T. Craig, Athens realtor and former editor of The Athens Review. The Brotherhood organization of the Christian Churches of the East Texas and Dallas districts, comprising some 25,000 members, is the purchaser.

It is planned to use the property for a Youth camp and it is estimated that from ten to fifteen thousand youngsters will be brought to the site each year for supervised training and recreation. This church, along with other churches of the nation, is working this move to combat juvenile delinquency. Other denominations have purchased sites.

The purchasers plan to erect immediately two large dormitories costing approximately $10,000 each, one for boys and the other for girls.

Lake Undy is one of the oldest private lakes in East Texas, and for years has been the site for coaches, politicians, newspaper, and other organizations meetings that were attended by high-ranking officials. The tract is located several miles east of Athens on Highway 21 en route from Athens to Tyler.

WATER CONSUMPTION BY LOCAL CITIZENS SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Corsicana people are either bathing or preferring water to more stimulating beverages, according to figures on 1946 water consumption, released Tuesday by City Engineer Fred W. Blucher. During 1946 consumers used 47,340,000 gallons more than was used in 1945, Blucher said.

Actual consumption figures were: 945-425,400,000; 1946-472,734,000. Low month in gallons consumption was February with 31,078,000, while the top was hit in August with 56-32,000.

Blucher credited increase in consumers with the jump in annual water usage.

The city engineer said that water in storage at present totals 325 acre-feet. One acre of water is 43,560 cubic feet.

Pumping facilities at the lake at present can toss 3,650 gallons into the distribution lines per minute.

Barry

BARRY, Feb. 27.—(Spl.)—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson of Corsicana and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown of Kilgore and Jo Carolyn Cox were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Watson and family.

Fred Reed spent the week end at relatives in Dallas.

Mrs. Klimes Boswell and sons, Gary and Gene, were week end guests of Mrs. Sidney Woodruff and the L. C. Boswell family.

Billie Dell McGraw of NTSC, Denton, was home for the week end.

Mrs. O. M. Woodruff of Dallas visiting relatives and friends are this week.

Billy Elmer Watson of A. and C. spent the week end at home.

Mrs. T. J. Castellaw has returned home from Fort Worth where she has been visiting her son, Tom Watson Castellaw, and family for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Castellaw reports that her grandson, Bobby Castellaw, who was seriously injured by an automobile, was much improved.

Mrs. Minta Eason, George Eason, Dubart Watson, Miss Pearl Jewell, Mrs. Glenn Bell and Mar-a-Lou Bell were in Corsicana Wednesday night for the Civic music program.

BENEFIT CONTESTS
CLOSE SEASON FOR BASKETBALL TEAMS

Too much zone defense spelled doom Tuesday night for the Corsicana Tigers as they bowed to the Faculty, 45-32 in a benefit tilt unreeled at Junior High gym. In the initial game, the Tiger "B" team took the measure of the champion Junior Panthers, 33-13 in a thrilling contest.

The tilts officially marked the end of basketball for the city schools this year, proceeds of which will go to purchasing sweat suits for the Junior High cagers and to balance the book financially.

Coaches Starred
Headed by Peterson, Hay, and Compton, the three cagers mentors, the Faculty five set up a zone defense that was impregnable, forcing the High School five to snipe at great distances.

Compton with 16 tallies led the Faculty shooting while Bill Reed, senior letterman, paced the Tigers with 10 marks. Both teams used all reserves to give the packed house a good show.

In the Panther-Tiger "B" game, Johnny Crawford proved conclusively he earned a berth on the State AAU Junior team with his fine play. The Tiger "B" experiences paid dividends in tripping the Panthers, who won state consolation honors at the AAU meet in Dallas.

Smith Paced B Team
Ben Smith with 8 points was high scorer for the Tiger "B" in the tilt. Crook with 5 and Crawford with 4 led the Panthers.

Horseplay came to the front in opening the Faculty-Tiger tilt. Garland Matthews came out of the dressing room wearing shoulder pads, and a French Tam. To make things even for the Tigers, the Faculty taped up the basket. A farce quarter was played and then the actual tilt began.

In the Panther-Tiger "B" game, the High School five had a scare

AAU CONSOLATION CHAMPIONS—The husky bunch of basketballers above are the Junior High Panther cagers, Consolation Champions in the First Annual Southwestern AAU Junior High cage tourney. The Panthers were undefeated until they dropped a game to Greiner of Dallas. Their season record was 13 wins against one loss. First row, left to right: Jimmie Kirkland, Nocha Rosas, Paul Rash, Scott Middleton. Second row: Bobby Jo Staggs, Lamar Crook, Joe Yates, Wayne Cagle, Bill Ferguson. Third row: Coach J. H. Compton, Johnny Crawford, Walter Bond, Orville Langston, Frank Warfield, Charles Roy Bristow and Aubrey Blue.

as the Panthers had the game tied at 6-6 at halftime.

FT. WORTH YOUTH IS FATALLY INJURED
PLAYING FOOTBALL

Dan Dodson, 16-year old Amom Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) high school football player, who suffered critical internal injuries Feb. 13, in spring practice, died Wednesday morning in a Fort Worth hospital. The family resided in Corsicana until a few years ago.

The youth suffered a kidney rupture, spleen damage, injury to the left adrenal gland and other internal injuries when he attempted to block another player in work-out before the start of scrimmage, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

Dodson underwent an operation the day after his injury and team-mates gave blood for a transfusion.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dodson, Fort Worth; two brothers and a sister.

Zion's Rest PTA
Organized With
Membership Of 40

Mrs. Frank Ware, precinct chairman, organized the Zion's Rest PTA Tuesday afternoon at the school with a charter membership of 40.

Mrs. John Remonte was named president; Mrs. Horace Hayes, vice president, and Mrs. Jim Berry, secretary and treasurer.

The three officers will function as an executive committee to appoint standing and special committees.

Attending the meeting with Mrs. Ware were two other members of the Sam Houston PTA, Mrs. T. V. McMullan and Mrs. C. P. Floyd.

Questions pertaining to the formation and purposes of a PTA unit were answered by the three visitors.

A decision was reached to meet each second Tuesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the school.

The meeting was opened by R. C. Marshall, principal, who stated the objects of the assembly.

Former Sheriff John Show Jess Sweeten, former sheriff of Henderson county, has signed with the Shaeffer show and will go on the road about March 15. He is one of the best pistol shots in Texas and will be featured as a trick shot artist.

Sweeten will exhibit one of the finest gun collections in the country. He has secured the Pete O'Daniel (Corsicana) collection of 148 guns including one used by the celebrated Frank James of the famous James brothers gang.

Tyree Bell, Named
To A&M Post, Is
Former Corsicanan

Tyree L. Bell, appointed by Governor Beauford H. Jester as a director of Texas A&M College, is a former resident of Corsicana.

He was vice president and general manager of the McElvath Construction Company with headquarters here and resided in Mills Place.

Always active in A. and M. College circles, Bell was a star player and captain of an Aggie football team while in school and has been prominent in the affairs of the Former Students Association of A. and M. College since leaving the campus. Bell has been a member of the Aggie advisory council for athletics, and his appointment is expected to meet with the approval of local and Central Texas former Aggie students as well as in Dallas where he has been connected for years in an official capacity with one of the larger paving and road constructing companies. The new Aggie director will give considerable time to serving his Alma Mater.

OFFICIALS OF JUNIOR COLLEGE AT HEARING
FOR BILL ON FUNDS

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—(Sp.)—Three officials of the Navarro County Junior College attended a hearing of the appropriations committee in Austin Tuesday and conferred with Rep. George O. Nokes, Jr., of Corsicana, and other representatives on House Bill 321, an emergency appropriation measure for junior colleges.

They were Bruce McCormick, member of the board of trustees; Ray L. Waller, president, and Ken Clark, football coach.

The bill provides for an emergency appropriation of $50 per capita for the Navarro County Junior College and six other junior colleges throughout the state. Because these junior colleges have been activated since the last session of the legislature, no funds are available to provide them with the same state assistance as is being provided other junior colleges over the state.

The appropriation was discussed at length by the appropriation committee and referred to a subcommittee for further consideration. The bill is being sponsored in the house by Rep. Nokes and representatives from other districts where junior colleges have been recently organized. Senator James Taylor is sponsoring the measure in the senate.

STATE HOME LADS
TROUNCE QUINTET OF
BLOOMING GROVE

The State Home Lads smothered a lethargic Blooming Grove cage squad Tuesday night 44-3 on the State Home court, while the Lassies trounced the State Home Exes and teachers, 16-6, when the Blooming Grove girls failed to show up for the scheduled tilt between the two.

The Lads did not make a free toss during the entire game, but made their entire score via the field goal route. Carrington accounted for 18 points to lead the Lad scoring.

The Lassies had little trouble in beating the Exes and teachers. Pruett and Downey, two of the ace Lass forwards, looped 8 and 6 points, respectively, to lead their team in scoring.

Last night's games were the last ones for the Lads and Lassies before they enter the Frost Invitational tournament there during the latter part of this week.

Scoring:
Lads—Phillips 4, Pillows 4, Lawrence 2, Carrington 18, Jones 6, Boyce 2, Herrington 4, Murdeck 4. Blooming Grove—Jordan 0, Hollingsworth 0, Smith 0, McGraw 2, Spencer 1.

Lassies—Downey 6, Pruett 8, Anders 2, Gordon 0, Alford 0, Bromagen 0, Dillard 0.

Exes—Cannon 0, Jones 0, Erzen 2, Tucker 0, D. Tucker 0, Harrington 0, Murdock 0, Corner 2, Thompson 2.

Will Compete Next
Week In Richland

An independent basketball tournament for both men and women teams will be sponsored at the Richland gymnasium at night, beginning Tuesday and ending Friday, H. L. Moore, Richland school superintendent, announced Tuesday.

Teams interested are urged to enter not later than Friday evening so that the brackets can be prepared.

Moore is expecting about eight teams in each division of the competition, although he has not received all entries.

Ribbons will be awarded the members of the winning combinations.

"Duel In The Sun"
Showing Postponed

The early showing of "Duel In The Sun," the David O. Selznick technical epic of Texas, that was to have opened presented to patrons of the Palace theatre here beginning March 4, has been postponed. Interstate officials advised Manager Paul Hudgins that technical difficulties caused the postponement. The new date for the showing of the picture here and in other Texas cities will be announced as soon as definite plans can be made, Hudgins stated.

HYDRAULIC LIFT AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

Move the Model C tractor's hydraulic lever with one finger and you can raise heavy-duty implements weighing up to a ton.

The hydraulic lift raises implements by tractor power instead of muscle power. The same tractor that proved faster and more efficient than work animals, now saves tiring human effort too.

It has been calculated that one farmer frequently expends 6,000 to 10,000 foot pounds of effort daily operating levers. Day after day... plowing, planting, cultivating, fertilizing, terracing, crossing grass waterways... 3 to 5 tons of armwork.

The Allis-Chalmers hydraulic lift ends that drudgery... begins a new experience in comfort and Better Living... for you and your family. Come in and let us demonstrate this simple labor-saving feature.
